

Home Grown

By Ashley de Coligny

Lucky you live Hawaii, because you can outfit your fashion-forward keiki in these adorable, locally designed duds.

Budding fashionistas can now follow in Mommy's footsteps with these Mini Eel dresses ($38 each) from the ultra-chic, local designer label Fighting Eel. Fighting Eel, 47 N. Hotel St., 594-1479.

The colorful felt creatures on these Mi Cielo onesies ($22 each) are hand-stitched by Honolulu mom Kayo Master—and she'll take custom orders. Baby Awareness, 2752 Woodlawn Drive, Suite 5209, 988-0010.

Dress your darlings in true Hawaiian style with this BJC aloha shirt ($16.99) and Kolo Kolo dress ($21.99), both made in Hawaii. Kahala Kids, Kahala Mall, 737-8700.

Your Island baby will look cool and stay comfy in onesies with local logos, such as these for Happy Haleiwa and Fisherman's Wharf ($24 each). Happy Haleiwa, Ward Warehouse, 591-1813.

Want to get daily tips on more cool local products? Sign up for the free e-newsletter at LetChic.com.

18 • www.islandfamilymagazine.com • January 2010 • Good Families. Good Fun.

Fighting Eel
Made in Paradise

Island Family / January 2010 / www.fightingeel.com